Salt Palace Lien Holder Wants First Money-Fire Quicker Than Process of Law-Consent Judgment Against Dalton & Lark-Dickson's Illness Interrupts Trial.

Daisy V. Gaylord, nee Shields, commenced an action yesterday in the dis-trict court against her husband, Frank i. Gaylord, for a decree of divorce.
The defendant is a son of wealthy parmis, residing at Butte, but he is befeved now to be a resident of Bridgeort, Conn.
According to the complaint, drawn by port, Cann.

According to the complaint, drawn by Zane & Rogers for Mrs. Gaylord, it is alleged that plaintiff and defendant were married at Ogden on Dec. 17, 1897, but that there is no issue from the union. On June 2, 1888, Gaylord, the plaintiff complains, deserted and abandoned her without cause, and since that time he has utterly failed to provide for her tile common necessaries of life. In addition to the decree of divorce, Mrs. Gaylord prays to be restored to her malden name.

Mrs. Garlord is a daughter of Colonel . Shields, a well known Salt Laker went to Scattle a couple of years to. The young lady is esteemed by

Supreme Court Reverses Judge Higgins In a Beaver Case.

An opinion was rendered by the su James McGarry, appellant, vs. Tanner & Bakes company, reversing the judgment of the lower court in granting a non-suit to defendant, a corporation doing a general merchandles business at Beaver.

doing a general merchandise business at Beaver.

From the record in the case it appeared that plaintiff sucd for payment of two promissory notes of $250 each, one being assigned by W. P. Smith, which were executed in the early part of the pear 1896. The notes represented money advanced to the company, due in six months. W. H. Bakes, the manager, and Moses Edwards a director, signed the notes in their individual capacities, but it was alleged the intention was that the borrowing and agreeing to pay was an act for and on behalf of the company, in whose business the money was used.

At the trial the defendant company set up that the borrowing was done by Edwards individually, with Bakes as streety to pay a debt to the company. This point was disputed by the evidence.

Relative to the lower court granting dence.

Relative to the lower court granting defendant's motion for a non-suit, the supreme court opinion states that the runing was erroneous, because plaintiff's contention established a prima facle case. The opinion adoed that appellant's proof in the case was clearly of such a character as to preclude the judgment of non-suit.

Judgment Creditors In Court.

Zion's Savings Bank & Trust company is suling numerous defendants to quiet fittle in plaintiff to a part of lot 9, block 2, plat 1, Sait Lake City survey. It is alleged in the compaint that plaintiff took a deed to the property from Jeremiah E. Langford, now a bankrupt, in satisfaction of a mortgage of $5,000, but that the grantor's right of redemption, by agreement, has not yet expired.

At the time of the conveyance Davis, Howe & Co., W. F. Mitcholl and John Roeder were creditors of Langford, and Latterly their claims matured to judgment liens upon the mortgaged premiese. These creditors are now made defendants and required to show cause

COAL IS TREATED FOR THIRTY CENTS PER TON. LITERARY CLUB COLLECTION TO

> Great Future Is Assured For the Iron County Coal and Iron Fields-Colorado Company Has Tied Up a Large Tract of Iron Lands Bright Outlook.

Charles H. Kraft, who bears the distinction of being the first man to demonstrate to a certainty that the coal deposits of Iron county can be utilized for smelting purposes, and utilized for smelting purposes, and therefore, made of great commercial value, by the application of the Hemingway process for coking coal, the patents for which are owned by L. Z. Leiter of Chicago, invited a few guests to an exhibition at his home on east. Brigham street, yesterday. The visitors included M. H. Walker, J. R. Walker, Jr. and J. A. Silver.

Mr. Kraft had a fire burning in the grate in the front room, the fuel supplied being the Iron county product after it had gone through the Hemingway process.

Mr. Kraft's oblect was to demontheir club rooms recently, is having an influence that is already being felt among the schools here, and is proving an additional incentive to study those things which the world, in all ages, has pronounced good. It is decided to retain the collection so that the children may get the full benefit by having it bung in the corridors of the various schools, where the pictures will be studied and explained.

Pictures are being so generously recognized as a most potent factor in education that it has led to public school art leagues being formed in most eastern cities for the sole purpose of placing the best art productions in casts and pictures on the walls of public school rooms. This movement is meeting with wonderful success, and is in the right direction from the social and geomomic standpoint.

The Cquirrh school is the first on the last the results of the start after it had gone through the rieming-way process.

Mr. Kraft's object was to demon-strate to his guests that the fuel could be utilized for household purposes as well as for smelting. The fuel produces a soft blue fiame, similar to anthracite coal and is entirely free from soot.

A Cheap Treatment.

A Cheap Treatment.

The coal, so Mr. Kraft says, can be treated by the Hemingway process for about 30 cents a ton, so to use the coke for household purposes would not be an expensive luxury. It takes, however, about two tone of coal to make one ton of coke.

Mr. Sliver is anxious to make a test of the product at the Sliver Brothers foundary to see what can be done with it in the way of smelting iron. Mr. Kraft and Apostle Brigham Young, who has worked with him in the enterprise, saw thorough tests made with the coke in the smelting of Iron in Chicago. and pupils are planning to make their building very interesting on the occasion of the art exhibit. During the day the pictures will be explained and studied by the children. In the evening, beginning at a o'clock, a programme will be presented, in which patrons, teachers and children will take part. The Webster school will hold its art exhibition next Wednesday, as the principal drew second place in the drawing by lot. The Summer school has third place, and the Jackson fourth. The dates for other school exhibitions will be announced later. No date has been decided upon as yet by Mr. Silver, so it is uncertain just when he will make the tests at his works.

The Mormon church owns about 1.000 acres of the coal lands in Iron county and it is the desire of Apostle Young that the church shall receive the benefits from it.

Market On the Coast.

Market On the Coast.

Mr. Kraft thinks the principal market for the coke in the future will be on the Pacific coast and as there are unlimited bodies of magnetic iron of a high-grade near to the coal fields, he feels certain the Industry will assume large proportions and eventually the Pacific coast will become independent of the iron and steel plants of the east. It is apparent too, that the Colorado-Fuel & Iron company, realizes the importance of southern Utah. While that company has been working very quietly about it, as stated in The Herald a short time ago, a representative of the iron lands in the vicinity of Cedar City. It has leaked out that this representative has been kept busy during the last few weeks. The statement was made yesterday that the Colorado concern had expended already $25,000 in securing options on iron lands.

The state committee of the George Washington Memorial association met yesterday morning at the Kenyon to state memorial associations throughout the country will join in commemora-tion services, and it was decided that the Utah branch should also henor the ready season in iron lands.

A committee of arrangements was appointed, consisting of Mrs. George F. Downey, chairman; Mrs. Fabian, Mrs. Kingsbury, Mrs. Dart and Mrs. F. S. Richards. On the invitation committee are Mrs. Hoyt Sherman, Mrs. A. V. Taylor, Mrs. M. A. Caine, Mrs. S. W. Morrison and Mrs. W. G. Sharp. The proposition of the national committee to hold a great fair in New York in 1900 was received with favor, and the chairman was instructed to appoint a committee to arrange to make a proper exhibit from Utah. ville That Failed.

(Special Correspondence.)

Kaysville, Nov. 22.—An attempt was made at an early hour this morning to burn the saloon building of Swan & Co. on Pine street. The incendiary evidently planned what he expected would be an effective attempt. A fire was started on the outside of a door leading to the ceifar, where several thousand dollars' worth of liquor and much combustible material are stored. The door was first saturated with coal oil, and so well had the fire done the work expected of it at this point that a hole had been burned through the door, and when the fire was discovered flames were at work within two feet of a box containing straw and other inflammable staff. A few feet further away was a cost oil tank, a coal bin and barrel affer larrel of liquor.

Not content with the one attempt, the incentiary also sprinkled kerosene over the rear door upstairs, evidencity thinking to burn a hole through it that would create a draught from below and hasten the descruction of the building.

The belief is expressed that if the attempt had been successful the adjoining term in the door in the contains of the adjoining them. The belief is expressed that if the attempt had been successful the adjoining term in the door in the contains the door in the contains the door in the contains the
